

Serving Texas Families

2010 Statewide Directory of Family Violence Service Programs

provided by the Texas Council on Family Violence

What is a Family Violence Service Provider?

In Texas there are over 100 family violence service providers. These providers are locally operated, community-based nonprofit organizations that offer quality victim-centered services to survivors of family violence and their children. Texas family violence service providers may offer a variety of critical services such as 24-hour emergency shelter, nonresidential services or advocacy. Services offered vary by community. For more information on a provider's services, contact the local service provider. The family violence service providers listed in the TCFV Directory are TCFV program members and/or HHSC funded programs.

What is an HHSC Funded Program?

Of the 100 family violence service providers, 70 shelter centers and seven non residential centers are funded by the Texas Health and Human Services Commission (HHSC) Family Violence Program. All HHSC funded centers must provide comprehensive services including a 24 hour emergency shelter, crisis hotline or access to one, and supportive services specific to the needs of victims of family violence. Some of these required services include intervention services, safety planning and legal advocacy.

The state standards and more information about the HHSC Family Violence Program may be viewed at www.hhsc.state.tx.us.

What is a Battering Intervention and Prevention Program?

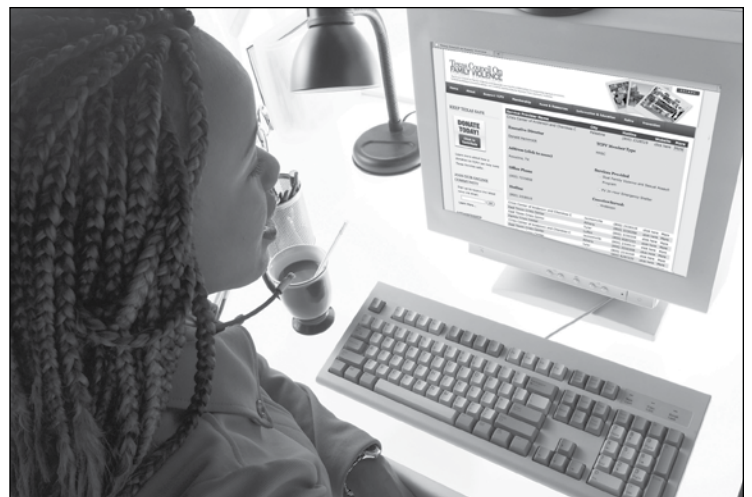

Texas Battering Intervention and Prevention Programs (BIPPs) provide quality and effective services to offenders of family violence. These programs are charged with promoting safety to victims of family violence and achieving social change necessary to eliminate family violence. The programs listed comply with state guidelines, and are funded by the Community Justice Assistance Division of the Texas Department of Criminal Justice. The state guidelines and information about accreditation can be viewed at: www.tcfv.org

Using the Online Directory

The new online service directory will feature an online search tool that will be updated regularly every time new information is available or staffing and program changes occur. This will provide the most up-to-date and accurate results available.

The search will allow complete control of content through several filters which can be set by region, type of services provided, etc., as well as allowing users to sort results by category.

This directory is published by the Texas Council on Family Violence and made possible by the Texas Health and Human Services Commission, Family Violence Program and the Texas Department of Criminal Justice, Community Justice Assistance Division.

National Teen Dating Abuse Helpline

loveisrespect, National Teen Dating Abuse Helpline is a national resource accessible by both Internet and phone. Teens can obtain support from peer advocates through the live chat offered on loveisrespect.org or by calling the Helpline at 1-866-331-9474 or 1-866-331-8453 (TTY).

What is the Texas Council on Family Violence?

Mission – The Texas Council on Family Violence (TCFV) promotes safe and healthy relationships by supporting service providers, facilitating strategic prevention efforts, and creating opportunities for freedom from domestic violence.

Texas Council on Family Violence is a statewide organization representing a network of domestic violence programs that provide direct services to victims and their families. We are dedicated to working with local communities to create strategies that prevent family violence and promote healthy families.

Our key role focuses on influencing and shaping public policy for the support of direct service providers and families, framing the issue for lawmakers, being the voice for victims at the state level while working with local communities to create strategies to prevent family violence and increasing public awareness.

We provide training and resources to local programs to assist staff in responding to issues which directly affect survivors and their families.
