Healthy Marriage Regional Intermediary and Family Violence Service Providers in Texas

Locating Healthy Marriage Regional Intermediaries

The Texas Health and Human Services Commission (HHSC) has divided the state into 12 geographic regions, with 12 corresponding Regional Intermediaries (RIs) responsible for service delivery management for premarital and healthy marriage education services throughout their respective regions. Each RI will subcontract with up to six community-based and / or faith-based organizations in its respective region to provide service delivery. This map outlines the 12 HHSC-identified regions where the Healthy Marriage RIs are located. The contact information for each of the RIs listed follows the respective HHSC region number. Please contact the RIs directly to inquire about the subcontractors providing services in your region.

Locating Family Violence Service Providers

A variety of family violence service providers are located throughout the state, offering a range of services and resources for victims / survivors and their families. This map identifies 115 counties with programs for victims / survivors of family violence – the counties which have a family violence program are marked with a star. To locate the family violence service provider closest to you, please refer to the attached TCFV Service Directory. The TCFV Service Directory, pages 1-14, organizes local family violence programs alphabetically by city. Each program entry contains the name of the program, the city and county in which it is located, contact information for the program (including the administrative office contact information and the number for the shelter's 24-hour emergency hotline, if available), and lists any additional counties served by the program. *Please be aware that the Service Directory contains a map on page 15 with family violence programs organized by TCFV's 9 regions. It is important to bear in mind that HHSC's regions do not correspond with TCFV's 9 regions; therefore please disregard that map as it will not be useful for your purposes.

The TCFV Service Directory, updated monthly, can also be found online at: <http://www.tcfv.org/service-directory/>
The electronic version is searchable by city, county and program name.
